THERE ARE PLACES
I REMEMBER
ALL MY LIFE
THOUGH SOME HAVE CHANGED.

SOME FOREVER NOT FOR BETTER, SOME HAVE GONE AND SOME REMAIN

ALL THESE PLACES HAD THEIR MOMENTS
WITH LOVERS AND
FRIENDS I STILL CAN RECALL.

SOME ARE DEAD AND SOME ARE LIVING, IN MY LIFE I'VE LOVED THEM ALL.

BUT OF ALL THESE FRIENDS AND LOVERS THERE IS NO ONE COMPARES WITH YOU.

AND THESE MEM'RIES LOSE THEIR MEANING WHEN I THINK OF LOVE AS SOMETHING NEW,

THOUGH I KNOW I'LL
NEVER LOSE AFFECTION
FOR PEOPLE AND THINGS
THAT WENT BEFORE.

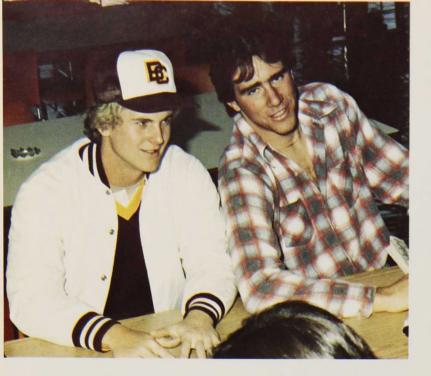

I KNOW I'LL OFTEN STOP AND THINK ABOUT THEM, IN MY LIFE I'LL LOVE YOU MORE.

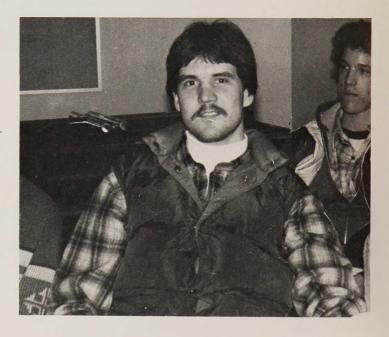

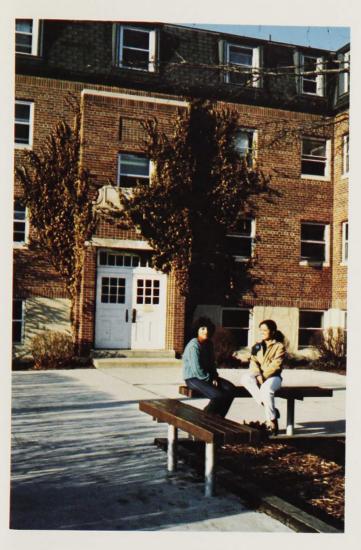

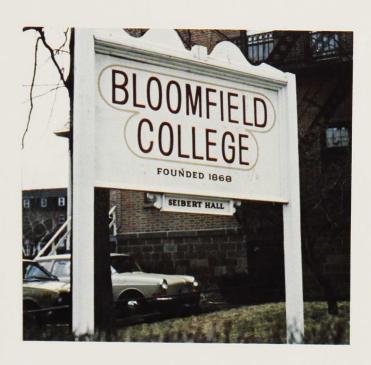

THOUGH I KNOW I'LL
THAT WENT BEFORE.

I KNOW I'LL OFTEN STOP AND THINK ABOUT THEM IN MY LIFE I'LL LOVE YOU MORE.

I'LL LOVE YOU MORE.

DEDICATION

SAGA 1982 is dedicated to the memory of our friend Jose A. Gonzales (1957-1981). Jose, a member of Zeta Phi Epsilon, was well known and respected by all on the Bloomfield College campus. He shared his smiles, his tears and in essence, himself. Thank you Jose for showing us how to live.

"THE ABSENCE OF TIME"

To where did you flee? I held you tight within my grasp with no way of escape, yet glancing to where you should be, only traces of where you have been . . . remain.

I thought you were there as I pranced in the coolness of the grass, and wondered at the leaves scampering across the ground, although I cannot quite recall.

You were not seen at each passing birthday as I opened my presents with excitement and felt the warmth of love from all about, but when I reflect, I was not looking.

Did you see me, when alone I cried for fear of not being loved? It seemed then that nobody cared. Not opening my eyes, my foolishness went unseen.

As the days faded in succession, the birds continued their cheerful melodies, greeting me every morning as the sun smiled through the pane of my room. Still, your presence was not felt.

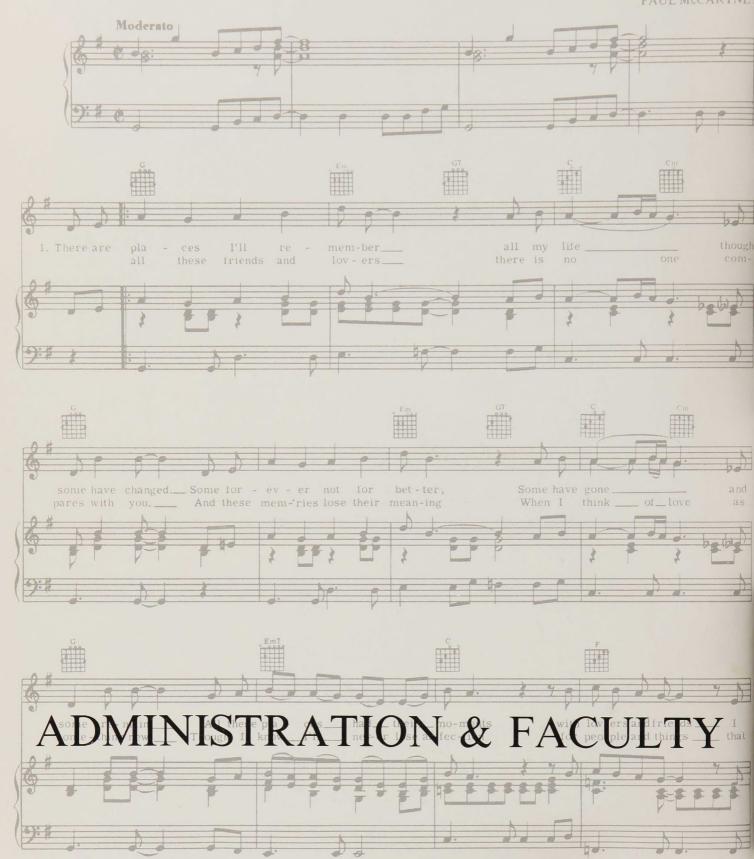

As I ponder, though, you were with me I'm sure, even as you are now. You cannot be seen or confined to structure, but I have learned and grown through your incessant passing.

So travel on with me, as I venture forth, and reveal to me that which is waiting to capture my thoughts, cause my tears and make me laugh.

Frank DeLizio Class of 1982

PROFESSOR GEORGE E. JONES

All things which begin must come to an end. Pure water, bursting forth from the earth with bubbling spring—fresh ebullience, makes its small mark in a forest. It collects in a tiny pool, gurgling, fragile, yet bringing joy to whoever may come into contact with it. Gradually, the pool extends itself, dipping over hardened soil and mossed stones, slowly, carefully working a path for itself. It builds in size and strength until it wears at the very rocks which once restrained it, carving them, sculpting them, smoothing them to a delicate finish. The eddy rushed on with newfound power, driving headlong deeper and deeper through the woods, but suddenly crashing up against rocks, misting the air and plunging hundreds of feet to the craggy ground below, churning and foaming at it's plight. It proceeds more cautiously, snaking lazily amid shadows and summer sunlight, silently, down the mountainside occasionally giving to a sprouting, straggling trickle, desperately trying to make its own small way through the harsh unyielding surrounding. As the weary water nears the base of the hills, it is suddenly joined by other waters. Together they rush onward to the sea. The individual flux of the stream is lost, indistinct but unified, a part of something greater.

So it is with man. His life courses through the years, bubbling, flowing, crashing, surging, weeping. In the end, he has no choice but to join his comrades in the mysterious ocean of mankind past, his ech not forgotten in the mountains of his home, his former path carved indelibly into the rocks of time.

Such is the mark that our teacher and friend, Professor George Jones, has left with us. Though it may be said, that his course was by no means completed, his greatest potential ever reached, he has left behind a rich and bountiful resevoir of dedication, knowledge, respect and in essence, himself to serve as an inspiration to us, who are still trying to find the pathways best suited for the fulfillment of our own dreams.

Death is but another well-trodden path. It is, as are all other roads, not an end, but a beginning.
